Trust W. J. Harper to get all there is to get out of a piece of machinery; this week he hitched his faithful, patient, long suffering and thoroughly domesticated automobile on to the Haumesser hay barn and moved it—the barn—some hundred feet or more. The auto also moved.

W. J. haumesser forgot all the physics he ever knew, he simply applied the law of pulleys or block and tackle to the proposition of moving the barn.

CLIMBING UP

The many Wauseon friends of Lloyd Schad will be glad to hear of the success which he is achieving for himself at Case School of Applied Science, Cleveland, where he is completing his fifth and final year in a combined academic and engineering course, taken at Western Reserve and Case School. Lloyd is teaching electrical mathematics two evenings each week at the new Cleveland High School, M. C. A. and has recently been teaching the Calculus classes for one of the professors in the school who received an injury that temporarily disabled him.

As indicating his rank as a student Lloyd has received a certificate of high scholarship showing that he stands among the first in his class and has recently been made an honorary member of the Tan Beta Phi Fraternity eligibility to membership in which is based upon high rank in scholarship. Out of a class of 170 Case men, Lloyd is one of six who were honored with membership in this fraternity, three of these coming from other colleges than Reserve, so that Lloyd is one of three whose college work was taken at Reserve, to win this honor.

The above facts were gleaned from a letter, not written for publication. Citizens of Wauseon are entitled to know when one of our young men or women are making such a record as is Lloyd Schad, a record that reflects some credit upon his home town and gives the home friends reason to be proud of him. Mr. Schad has and is achieving success by his own efforts and hard work.

The Lorain city Council recently made a contract with The Citizens Gas and Electric Co. to supply that city with gas for a period of five years at the rate of 33 cents per thousand feet with a reduction of 3 cents per thousand if bills are paid before the tenth of each month.
